WILD GAME SHOW AT SAGINAW

GRAYLING WILL CONTRIBUTE TO EXHIBIT.

Big Wild Life Show at Saginaw, February 23rd to 26th

What is being exploited as the greatest educational display of animals and birds ever shown in America, west of New York, is now being placed on the floors of the big auditorium building, Saginaw, for the wild life show, which will be presented to the people of the State of Michigan, February 23-25-26. Besides the live and mounted animal life, which is set under the auspices of the Saginaw County Wild Life Conservation Association, assisted by the Michigan Fish Commission and the State Game, Fish and Forest Fire Department, of the Public Domain Commission, a series of the world's most famous lecturers will present in motion pictures the animal life of four continents.

Among the many interesting exhibits will be those from Grayling. The Grayling Fish Hatchery club will have a nice exhibit of brook trout. Superintendent Zalsman says that they will show a fine lot of brook trout one year old that have attained a growth of seven inches. Besides these there will be shown trout just hatched and from that stage to those up to two weeks old.

Superintendent Murphy is shipping a fine lot of wild animals and birds from the Hanson State Game preserve. There will be several deer including some of the white fallow deer. Also beaver, coon, porcupine, squirrel, quail and other species.

For the banquet hall, "more game" meetings to be held in the afternoon, February 24-25, State Game Commissioner William R. Oates has secured acceptance from many of the best game propagating authorities in America.

E. A. McIlhenny, who was instrumental in having Mrs. Russell Sage provide money for establishing the Marsh Island refuge, Louisiana; Commissioner John Phillips and Secretary Kalfus, Pa.; Harry Rogers, for most game breeding authority; Mr. Vernon Bailey, Chief Field Naturalist of the Biological Survey, Washington, D. C., and many of the game commissioners of other states will appear in the discussion. This review of game propagating possibilities will assume the importance of a national question.

Interesting in the floor exhibits will be that of the Michigan Fish Commission. The Commission is arranging to bring the whole paraphernalia of a hatchery to the show, so that the process of hatching may be presented to the public. Development of many species of fish from fry to maturity will be shown. Aquarium tanks will display the fish alive in their various stages of growth.

At the indigenous animal life of Michigan will be displayed, alive or mounted and a feature of the afternoon programs to be given in the big assembly hall, which seats 4,500 persons will be a scenic production of American Game Birds, painted by the world's greatest bird artist, Louis Agassiz Fuertes. This feature will be presented by James McGilivray, Educational Bureau, of the Game, Fish and Forest Fire Department.

Under the direction of Augustus C. Carton, Secretary Public Domain Commission, a forestry exhibit will be set by Marcus Schaaf, State Forester, in which growth will be illustrated from the seed and seedling to the merchantable tree.

Specimens of deer, elk and other animals and the bird life of the Michigan game refuges will be brought to the floors of the show.

Never, perhaps, in the history of America has so many of the foremost speakers on subjects of Natural history been placed on one program, as on that which covers the evenings of February 23-24-25.

Norman McClintock, with his new and remarkable moving pictures of the bird life of the Gulf coast; Carl Akeley, National museum of Natural history, with elephant hunting and other African subjects; Prof. Wilfred H. Osgood of the Field museum, with moving pictures of the fur seal rookeries and other speakers of international note are scheduled by W. B. Morshon, President Michigan Wild Life Conservation Association.

Special trains are being chartered by sportsmen and it is expected that upwards of 50,000 persons will see the show. Admission is free day and night.

Michigan Agricultural College Country Life Conference.

The Michigan Agricultural College, extends to you a special invitation to attend the fourth Michigan Country Life Conference to be held at Lansing at the College, February 29th and March 1st and 2nd, which will be Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of Farmers' week. They believe the subjects to be discussed will be of vital interest to many people both in the country and in the cities.

Former Grayling Citizen Sends Greetings to Boy Scouts

Frank G. Walton of Bay City, who, with his wife are spending the winter in Crossville, Tenn., wrote a letter to the local Boy Scouts' Scout Master L. C. Bungard has thoughtfully turned the letter over for publication and no doubt it will be of interest to many of Mr. Walton's old friends here.

Crossville, Tenn., Feb. 7, 1916. To the Boy Scout company of Grayling, Mich.

My Dear Friends: The Crawford Avalanche conveys the good news to me, way down here in the sunny south land—that you are still in the service as Scouts. I am sure our old, but departed friend, Rev. Mr. Fleming, would be pleased also to know that his work along that line surely lived and flourished after him. I had great faith in you, in the South, the young men thus fitting themselves to be of sterling worth as American citizens. I also am pleased to write to you, that to my surprise and agreeably so, I find the south as warm in Christianity, as it is in sunshine, not alone demonstrated thru old men and women, but equally so by the Boy Scouts, young ladies and gentlemen. So I say to you boys, stick to old ship. It is worth the effort. With best wishes for the welfare and prosperity of the Scouts. I beg to remain, Sincerely Yours, F. G. Walton.

CELEBRITIES LAUD "DAMAGED GOODS."

Famous Drama Will Be Shown in Film Form at the Opera House Feb. 22nd.

Most remarkable endorsements of "Damaged Goods" the famous French drama, to be seen here at the opera house on Feb. 22 have come from the highest official sources.

When the play was put on at the National theatre in Washington, members of the Cabinet, both houses of congress, the United States Supreme court, the Diplomatic corps and those of prominence in national, religious and civic advancement attended.

The comment of some of those who saw the play with its remarkable lesson and gripping dramatic sequences, was strong endorsement and recommendation.

"A KNIGHT FOR A PRINCE."

Pretty Musical Comedy Staged at School Auditorium.

"A Knight for a Prince," was presented to Grayling people at the High school auditorium Friday and Saturday night of last week.

The production was under direction of C. B. Butler, of Bad Axe and was nicely staged considering that sickness and other bad luck entered into the rehearsals, necessitating several changes in the cast of characters almost at the last moment.

Besides being replete with catchy music and pretty costumes, the production had a humorous vein running through it. Miss Helen Kegan appeared as Margaret Lafferty, leading lady and sang several pleasing solos and duets. Bhar Rasmussen appeared as Prince Abdul Hammit and Fred Alexander as "Weary Walker," the fake prince. The part of Hans Gratsburg, the scheming hotel-keeper was taken by Mr. Butler. These all appeared in song and story. Also Frank Shanahan made a hit as Pat Lafferty, the attorney of the seventeenth ward of New York. He appeared in comedy throughout the play.

Other leading parts were taken by Lewis Burton as Travers, a champion tennis player; Miss Shier as Mrs. Lafferty, Margaret's mother; Miss Barry as Eleanor Gynn. Hilda Siivais as Topsy Turvy, did some graceful dancing and Bessie Brown as Bonnie Sweet Bessie, danced the highland fling, in native Scotch costume. There were several pretty choruses and scenes and the audience quite generally enjoyed the evening.

New Board of Trade President will Name Committees.

FINISHES LABORS IN GRAYLING.

Supt. of Construction of DuPont Plant Returns to Bay City.

Subsequent with the completion of the $225,000 chemical plant of the E. I. DuPont, de Nemours & Company in Grayling, Miller Rose, who has acted as superintendent of the work of construction, has about closed up his duties here and will leave this week for the Bay City plant of this company.

Mr. Rose was one of the first representatives of the Company to come to Grayling last April after negotiations for locating the plant here had been completed and directed the breaking of ground, laying of foundations and finally finishing the structures and assisting in the installation of the apparatus used in operation.

Few, if any, of our people had any idea of the magnitude the plant would be. In all there are twenty-eight buildings on the place, principal among these being the brick retail building, the steel reinforced concrete still house, boiler and pump house, machine shop and warehouses. Besides those mentioned, there are eleven up-to-date residence buildings.

C. T. Clark of Bay City is general manager of the Grayling and Bay City plants of the DuPont company and his utmost confidence in Mr. Rose and by their mutual vigilance and co-operation they have constructed here the finest chemical plant of its kind that this country owns and probably the best in this country. Closely associated with Messrs. Clark and Rose is Mr. Foster, who is now superintendent of the plant.

Mr. Rose says he has enjoyed his work here and is fully appreciative of the many courtesies that have been extended to him during his living among us and he feels that he has many warm friends in Grayling and hopes to make frequent visits here in the future. Those who have learned to know Mr. Rose have found him to be an agreeable gentleman and congenial friend and many of us will miss his witty stories, which he tells in a pleasing manner.

His circle of friends does not conclude with those he meets about town but includes the men who are employed in the factory as well. They all speak highly of him and are sorry to have him leave.

In a letter Mr. Rose received from the main office of the Company in Wilmington, Del., this week, they cordially thank him for his energetic services during the past year and for his loyalty to the Company, and to give further assurances of appreciation they enclosed a note present, the value of which we are not permitted to reveal.

Mr. Rose surely has made a large number of friends here and they will be sorry to have him leave Grayling.

The Best Recommendation.

The strongest recommendation any article may receive is a favorable word from the user. It is the recommendations of those who have used it that makes Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so popular. Obtainable everywhere."

I OWE MY HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Washington Park, Ill. — "I am the mother of four children and have suffered with female trouble, backache, nervous spells and the blues. My children's loud talking and rumpling would make me so nervous I could just tear everything to pieces and I would feel so sick that I would not want anyone to talk to me at times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills restored me to health and I want to thank you for the good they have done me. I have had quite a bit of trouble and worry but it does not affect my youthful looks. My friends say 'Why do you look so young and well?' I owe it all to the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies."

Duly Cautious.

The street car was crowded, and a gentleman with kindly twinkles in his eyes took five-year-old Tom upon his lap.

"This will be better than standing, won't it, my boy?" he suggested.

"Oh, huh," Tom replied without enthusiasm. He had rather enjoyed jouncing about the aisle, just like his father.

"But you want to be careful that I don't pick your pocket," the gentleman cautioned in a whisper.

"Can't," Tom retorted, his voice somewhat muffled, "soon as I saw you looking at me I put my penny in my mouth." — Judge.

IS CHILD CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels and the result is they become lightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomachache, diarrhoea. — Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well-child again. Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Adv.

SCANDINAVIAN NEWS

SUMMARY OF IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS IN FAR OFF NORTHLAND.

ITEMS FROM THE OLD HOME

Resume of the Most Important Events in Sweden, Norway and Denmark—Of Interest to the Scandinavians in America.

DENMARK.

War rumblings may disturb Sweden, but Denmark is going to keep out of this war. She wants to keep out, and both Germany and England want the same thing. If Denmark fights at all, it must be with the allies. She lost Schleswig-Holstein to Germany 52 years ago, and has hated the Germans ever since. But Germany could cross the imaginary lines separating the two countries and overrun Denmark within a short time. Hence Denmark cannot afford to fight. On the other hand Germany is not anxious to invade Denmark. The Germans receive considerable quantities of supplies through Denmark's neutral ports despite the British blockade. They realize that England would blockade these ports if occupied by Germans. Furthermore, Germany does not want to increase her war troubles by conquering and making it necessary to defend Denmark's long line against possible landings by the allies. England gets large stores of foodstuffs from the Danes. If Denmark entered the war and was occupied by German troops this source of supply for the British Isles would be cut off. It is generally understood that a tacit agreement exists by which Denmark divides her foodstuffs between the Germans and the English, without objection by either. In view of this fact, it is cited that no Danish ship carrying food supplies to England has ever been torpedoed.

At a meeting held in one of the rigid districts in Denmark, the Danish premier, Mr. Zahle, spoke of the general conditions of the country brought about by the war. In this connection he mentioned the pleasant and cordial relations established between Denmark and Iceland through the autonomy granted the island by the Danish government last year. He expressed the hope that the good will toward the island manifested through this action would lay the foundation for a permanent good feeling between the two peoples. He remarked that the war had brought the three Scandinavian nations closer together. Denmark favors a strong co-operation and neighborly feelings toward Norway and Sweden. "We Danes have no reason to believe anything else but that the friendly neighborly feeling is growing in all three countries."

The Danish steamer Vidar, bound from Copenhagen for British ports with provisions was seized off Heligoland by a German submarine. The steamer was taken southward, probably to Swinemünde.

NORWAY.

Norway was the world's third maritime nation when the war broke out. England ranked first, Germany second, and England still ranks first, but even the British mercantile marine has suffered heavily. Germany's merchant shipping has been out of commission since the early days of hostilities. Compared with Norway, America's war boom relatively has been a small affair. The European struggle has brought more money to the United States than to any other country, but, comparatively, Norway has been the big winner. The Norwegians are richer to the extent of $200,000,000 in actual cash thus far. To properties they already owned there has been added a value of approximately as much more. This is on a basis of a population of 2,500,000. An addition of $80 per capita to Norway's wealth in a year and a half has been felt emphatically. Millions have been created wholesale. Many of them are millionaires only in kroner—a krone being about 27 cents—but a jump from nothing, in 18 months to a fortune of $250,000 or $270,000, which has happened in hundreds of cases, is not bad. The old shipping firms have profited in actual millions of dollars. Most of the new-made millionaires are clerks in shipping houses or officers of ocean-going craft, who were able to command a little credit and branched out in business for themselves.

Dr. Sigurd Isen, the son of the poet, Henrik Isen, has sold his cottage near the Holmenkollen tramway, Kristiania, to his brother-in-law, Einar Bjornson, and he intends to go to Denmark in April and remain there until the conditions in Germany permit him to go farther south.

The government has taken measures to restrict the worst forms of speculation, and the Bank of Norway has limited the loans on shipping stock to normal values. Still, stock subscriptions are going merrily on, and the offices of the stock brokers are always crowded with people eager to get rid of their money, of which there seems to be no lack.

The population of Norway September 30, 1915, was 3,466,674. The net increase for the first three quarters of last year was 15,020.

The royal family spent the first Christmas days at home, but are now staying at their beautiful, sporting villa, located just outside the city, and where they have an opportunity to enjoy to the fullest extent their love of sport and outdoor winter life.

Four canneries in Stavanger have been closed. The trouble was that they could not buy tinplate, oil and tar in England because they had sold goods to Germany. It is said that England has blacklisted 50 other canneries in Norway.

The royal family spent the first Christmas days at home, but are now staying at their beautiful, sporting villa, located just outside the city, and where they have an opportunity to enjoy to the fullest extent their love of sport and outdoor winter life.

Four canneries in Stavanger have been closed. The trouble was that they could not buy tinplate, oil and tar in England because they had sold goods to Germany. It is said that England has blacklisted 50 other canneries in Norway.

The merchant ship tonnage of Norway during last year, in spite of many ships sent to the bottom by German torpedoes, has increased about 100,000 tons, bringing it up to a total of 2,700,000, which is the record in Norwegian shipping history. At the same time the value of this tonnage has increased on an average of about 250 per cent, or something like $125 a ton. The demand for tonnage is increasing, and ship owners can get almost anything they desire, whether it is a question of sale or freight. New shipping companies are started every day, and there is not a craft so old and worn that it cannot find a purchaser and be used as a basis for a new stock company.

Extraordinary British and German naval activity has been in evidence along the Norwegian coast the last few days, according to the Stavanger correspondent of the Morgenbladet, who adds that a clash is possible at any time. A number of British warships and German submarines have been observed just outside territorial waters.

In 1913 the tobacco fields of Norway measured 663,317 square meters. The next year the area dropped to 312,763 square meters, and in 1915 there was only 35,712 square meters left. Last year the war made it necessary to use the ground for more valuable purposes.

SWEDEN.

According to advices from Stockholm the defensive alliance of the three Scandinavian nations—Sweden, Norway and Denmark—which was formed at Malmö at the end of 1914, trembles on the verge of destruction. Only a little more pressure from England, it seems, and King Gustaf will throw his new army of 600,000 men into the hands of the Kaiser. Foreigners tell what would happen then. They have a carefully planned campaign, which they say is that of the German general staff. Using the great ferries running between Germany and Sweden, the Kaiser would land an army in southern Sweden. These men would be rushed by rail to the border of Finland, and here with the Swedish fleet, and here would invade the grand duchy which Gustav Adolphus and Charles XII ruled and for which the Swedish monarchs have never ceased to yearn. The Finns would rise to a man, the German adherents continue, form volunteer military corps and prevent the Russians from destroying the railroads to protect Petrograd. Then would the czar see his capital little defended on this side, soon in the hands of the enemy. Sweden's entrance in the war on the side of Germany would embarrass the allies immensely.

In the year and a half since the war started, the German propaganda, which failed in the United States, has succeeded in Sweden. Almost all Sweden's news of the war comes through German sources. As a result, German sentiment has increased enormously. England's relations with Sweden have been lukewarm. The queen is a sister of the grand duke of Baden. She was almost injured while in the grand ducal palace at Karlsruhe, and she has proclaimed publicly her interest in the cause of the Kaiser, whose brother-in-law, King Gustaf was. Despite his de facto departure from Stockholm, Gustaf is regarded in sentiment. But if Sweden declares war against Great Britain, the treaty of Malmö becomes a scrap of paper. Norway and Denmark are even more strongly pro-German.

Maintenance of neutrality in conformity with the principles of international law was the keynote of all the speeches before both houses of the riksdag when debate on the budget was opened. Leaders of all parties dwelt on the virtual unanimity of the Swedish people in favoring firm and impartial neutrality. Premier Hammerskjöld declared this to be the policy of the government, but added: "We repudiate the idea that our policy means we will not abandon neutrality under any condition. It is our fervent desire to keep peace and it is our duty to work for this end with all our might, but we must also reckon with eventualities in which maintenance of peace, in spite of all our efforts, would no longer be profitable."

Knur Wallenberg, Swedish minister of foreign affairs, says of the Swedish-American steamship line: "In the establishment of this new steamship line, the Swedish government has a direct commercial relation and intercourse with the United States shall be augmented. Whether this shall be or not will largely depend on the attitude of Great Britain. The country has, as is well known, greatly hampered Swedish trade. There are numerous cases where Swedish car goods have been thrown into prize court contrary to all established laws and conventions between the nations."

The riksdag has appointed a committee of 12 members to confer with the king on foreign affairs and defense measures. The committee, which is representative of all parties in both chambers, includes three socialists and the conservative Professor Kjellén, who is known as a pro-German.

Prince Wilhelm, second son of King Gustaf, was operated on for appendicitis. His condition is satisfactory. Prince Wilhelm, who is duke of Södermanland, is thirty-two years old.

Great Britain is sowing mines so thickly at the entrance to the Baltic sea that it is practically impassable except to vessels under the guidance of official pilots.

LETTER FROM STATE CAPITOL

THE CONDITION OF THE BANKS COMPARED WITH ONE YEAR AGO.

USE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The Topics That Interest The People And Politicians, As Well As State Officeholders Are Chief Just Now.

[By Gurd M. Hayes.]

Lansing.—There has been a gain of $8,290,427.80 in aggregate business of the Michigan State banks and trust companies since November 10, 1915, according to statistics now compiled by Banking Commissioner Frank W. Merrick.

In this report the figures were taken at the close of business December 31, 1915. At that time the commercial deposits subject to check amounted to $125,128,893. Commercial certificates of deposit totaled $22,135,773.45. Savings deposits amounted to $206,303,722, and the total of savings certificates of deposit was $53,838,708.83.

Since the last report commercial loans and discounts have increased $1,181,266.13. Savings loans and discounts have increased $261,873.68. Commercial bonds and mortgages have increased $1,510,629.65, while savings bonds and mortgages have increased $435,156.53, making a total increase in loans of $7,351,536.83. In the same period commercial deposits have decreased $1,825,935.06 and savings deposits have increased $10,209,890.30, making a net increase in deposits of $8,290,427.80.

Compared with the corresponding report of one year ago the following changes are noted: Commercial loans and discounts increased $12,707,431.63; savings loans and discounts decreased $303,913.77; commercial bonds and mortgages increased $9,584,232.36; savings bonds and mortgages increased $22,321,576.90. During the past year commercial deposits, increased $33,940,500, and savings deposits increased $35,224,220.45, making a total increase in deposits of $69,164,720.95 for the year 1915.

The total reserve maintained by Michigan state banks and trust companies December 31, 1915, was $44,462,721.50 or 22.11 percent. The total cash reserve amounted to $31,115,392.32 or 13.88 percent. The reserves are divided as follows: Commercial legal $4,441,150.53 or 23.39 percent, commercial cash $15,805,023.04 or 52.27 per cent, savings legal $4,051,579.97 or 18.08 per cent, savings cash $15,210,500.48 or 53.54 per cent. Commissioner Merrick says that the reserve required by Michigan state banks is $26,128,291.82 over the requirements of the banking law.

Based on savings deposits of $260,142,430.33, the law requires mortgage and bond investments of at least $127,861,515.01. Merrick claims, however, that mortgage and bond investments exceeded the requirements by $50,282,492.51, and that savings investments, together with savings reserves, exceed the savings deposits by $5,579,701.92.

Railroad Commission's Powers.

That the state railroad commission has the power to withhold permission for the sale of securities by public service companies when the funds to be derived from such sale are, in the judgment of the commission, to be devoted to a purpose which would result beneficially to the interest of the security holders, is the substance of an opinion by Attorney General C. L. Glasgow, who made inquiry as to how far the commission could go in using "strong arm" methods. The members of the railroad commission contend that under the present law they shall insist that the money derived from the sale of bonds shall be used for the improvement of the property. It is also the contention of the commission that they would not have had the power to prevent the issuance of stocks and bonds in the Constantine case, even had they known the stream lacked sufficient power. However, the attorney general rules otherwise, and while he says he does not contend the primary purpose of the act creating the commission, is the protection of the investing public, he does believe the commission can deny permission to companies to issue stocks and bonds when such action would, in the judgment of the commission, result in a loss to the investor.

The attorney general directs the attention of the railroad commission to the fact that the framers of the so-called "blue sky" law omitted public utilities from the provisions of that act, it being taken for granted that the railroad commission was endowed with sufficient power to make full and complete investigation in all cases.

Chairmen Hemans and Commissioner Glasgow appear to differ in their views as to the extent of the commission's power, but as a result of the attorney general's ruling it is believed it will be some time before there is a repetition of the Constantine case which has done much to shake public confidence in one of the most important arms of the state government.

The Crops.

Michigan wheat suffered considerable injury during January according to the crop report issued by Secretary of State Vaughan. Out of 445 inquiries directed to crop correspondents throughout the state, 279 report injury to wheat last month, while 166 say no damage was done. During January 268,379 bushels of wheat were marketed in the state, while the estimated total number of bushels of wheat marketed in the six months, August-January, is 5,250,000.

Use of School Houses.

Urging the use of the school house as the community social center, superintendent of public instruction Keeler says people entertain the idea that the school house exists only for the child. With the passing of the husking bee and the spelling contest, has gone a common interest essential to the highest type of citizenship. He says "The schools have suffered because of the absence of this common interest, and with the exception of a few cities the school buildings are open but a few hours each day and about three fourths of the year. There could be no criticism if the school has fulfilled its mission when it has served as a place for giving the child his academic education. A small village located in the northern part of the state and organized less than two years ago is a fine example of a community where the school house is used as the social center. There has been no other building where the social activities of the community could be held so the very necessity of the situation caused these people to discover the value of the school house as a social center. If it is possible to throw open a school building to the public in a new country, it is possible everywhere."

The school building should serve as a meeting place for all organizations of the community that have an educational value and as a place for discussing topics which are of interest to the community. Such meetings will produce better schools and better civic conditions. One of the purposes of our schools is to train for democracy. They are not doing this unless they serve as a place for training our people how to live and work together.

Advertising Bonds.

C. L. Glasgow of the state railroad commission has notified the Consumers Power company of Grand Rapids that it must not advertise its bonds as having been approved by the state railroad commission. A Chicago company received a similar notice from the state commission. This action is being taken as a result of a ruling by the attorney general who informed Commissioner Glasgow that it was highly improper and misleading for companies to advertise their wares as having received the approval of the state board.

Mr. Osborn Withdraws.

Prospects for a wary primary battle between Chase S. Osborn and William Alden Smith for the control of the Michigan delegation to the national convention, ended when Mr. Osborn, in a formal statement issued here, said he would not enter the primary campaign.

As a candidate for president, several weeks ago Osborn said he would be a candidate if Senator Smith was not a serious contender, but—honestly—Senator Smith says he is honestly and sincerely a candidate. Osborn will support the Michigan senator for presidential honors.

Mr. Shields Retires.

E. C. Shields, chairman of the democratic state central committee, has given notice that he will not accept the responsibility of party leadership in the coming campaign and unless he changes his mind his successor will be elected at the spring convention of the democratic party. Senator James A. Murtha, democratic leader in the upper house, during the past three sessions of the legislature, is being mentioned as Shields' successor. Murtha has represented one of the Detroit districts in the legislature, but has announced his determination not to seek reelection this year.

The Suffrage Union.

Michigan headquarters of the Congressional Suffrage Union were opened in the Prudden building in Lansing last week by Miss Lillian W. Shedcor of Detroit, who is executive secretary of the organization. Miss Shedcor says the campaign to line up the Michigan congressmen in favor of the federal amendment providing for equal suffrage will be directed from this city. The executive secretary says the union has certain of support from all the Michigan Representatives Nichols and Doremus of Detroit, Beakes of Ann Arbor, Scott of Alpena and McLaughlin of Muskegon. A strong effort will be made, according to Miss Shedcor, to interest these congressmen in the suffrage cause.

Mr. Wood A Candidate.

Petitions to nominate E. O. Wood of Flint as democratic national committeeman from Michigan at the April primary were filed with Secretary of State Vaughan, Saturday. The petitions came from Shiawassee county. National committeemen of the various political parties are nominated at the April election in the same manner as presidential candidates. The state conventions following the primary are expected to ratify the primary selections. One hundred signatures are required to nominate a candidate for national committeeman.

The Auto Tax Law.

Attorney General Fellows, Secretary of State Vaughan and other state officials are pleased with the decision of the Detroit circuit judges who sustain the constitutionality of the new automobile tax law. State officers appear confident the new law will pass muster before the supreme court.

Test the Seed Oats.

All farmers are being advised by the M. A. C. farm crops department to test their seed oats for germination before the spring planting. Reports show that oats in Ohio and Indiana have been found to test as low as 50 per cent. Pedigreed oats, which have been distributed through the state, have been found to test 90 per cent this year.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Brew Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieves congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

End Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Oil

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub ointment, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you have the very oil on a stick, the rheumatic pain, "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never discolours and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica; lumbago; backache; neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pain, stiffness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more yawning, sniffing, blowing, no more headache, dizziness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what suffers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

Jolly Time Ahead.

"Oh, I'm going to have a swell feed in the room tonight." George. "I'll be there," John. "All right. Lead me a quarter to buy some crackers; you get some milk and cheese, and we'll have a rarebit." — Dartmouth Jackson-Lantern.

Higher Home Efficiency.

A revolution is going on in the homes of America. It is being brought about by the study of such subjects as health, home nursing, child welfare, foods and food values, textiles and the making of clothing, the family budget and household management. The outcome will be better health, and greater comfort and happiness for all at less expense. Because there is a demand for such instruction, and because the ends sought are so desirable, schools and colleges of agriculture all over the country are offering short sessions for the study of the subjects named.

Quality of Agreeableness.

To be agreeable is to have power. A good and kindly manner is like current coin of the republic in all social relations. We do not look askance at it, we accept it as our due. It is the unerring or clipped coin of bad or brutal manners which we question or refuse. In fact, we take the social amenities so much for granted that we are not half as grateful as we ought to be when we are thrown with an agreeable man or woman. The chances in this unhappy and bedraggled world of ours I fear, are rather against such happy experiences. We have had so much experience of shortcoming in courtesy that we approach a stranger with some misgivings and are not as much surprised as we ought to be if he turns out a boor. So what, agreeable in common experiences are a good many of us that we lower the average expectation for all humanity.

Gray Hair Becomes Dark, Thick, Glossy

Look years younger! Try Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur and nobody will know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and poisonous germs are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Phosphoric acid is the most powerful of the drugs store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject. Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, water with phosphate cleanses the act of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—Splendid for system.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, stinging sensation, or setting up an irritation in the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is a stinging in voiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your nearest druggist and take a tablespoonful of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is a non-toxic, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

The Element of Time in Prayer

By REV. HOWARD W. POPE of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT—Men ought always to pray and not to faint.—Luke 18:1.

Some requests are answered very quickly. A lady was once giving an address on nar-otics. At the close of a young man said to her, "I do not think it is wrong to use tobacco."

"Are you a Christian?" she asked.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Have you ever asked God for his opinion?"

"No."

"Well, if you are a Christian, I suppose you are willing to leave the matter to his decision. Let us kneel right down here and ask him. I will pray first, and then you follow."

The young man could not consistently refuse. He knelt with her, and at the close of her prayer he began to pray himself. He had not uttered three sentences before he sprang to his feet, saying, "I see it. It is not right. I will give it up at once."

In this case prayer was answered immediately, but in many cases the answer is long delayed.

When Mr. George Muller was in this country a friend of mine asked him how long he had ever prayed continuously for any object. Taking a little book from his pocket, he said, "When I was converted I was a wild boy in college. My conversion broke friendship between my roommate and myself, for he would have nothing to do with such a fanatic," he said. I wrote his name in this book and promised God that I would pray for him each day until he was converted, or until I died. I prayed five years with no apparent result. Ten years went by with no change. I continued on for fifteen years—twenty years, and still he was an unbeliever. I did not yet give up, but prayed twenty-five years, each day mentioning his name at the throne of grace, and then came a letter saying, 'I have found the Savior.' Then," said Mr. Muller, "I checked out this petition as answered. In this same book I have other names that I have prayed for for five, ten and fifteen years, and scores of names against which there is a cross, showing that the requests have been granted."

Here, then, was a man who made a business of prayer, and who kept his account with the Lord in a business-like way. When he had a matter to present to God's attention he first found a promise on which to base his appeal, always making sure, if possible, that it was according to God's will.

Then he recorded his petition in a book and watched and waited for the answer. Is it any wonder that this man's faith grew rapidly, and that he became the most notable and possibly the most successful prayerer of modern times?

We see by this illustration why many prayers fail; they are rambling appeals, so vague and indefinite that even the petitioner can hardly remember what he prayed for when he rises from his knees. Not expecting any answer, no record is made of them, and no surprise is felt if the answer does not come. And so the solemn farce goes on year after year.

It is said that in battle it takes a hundred pounds of lead to kill a man, because 99 pounds and 15 ounces of it is wasted in wild firing with aims at nothing and hits no one.

The other hand the sharpshooter wastes no ammunition, but picks his man and makes every bullet tell. So, if we would pray for fewer objects, more carefully selected, and then make a record of our prayers and watch for the answer, we would not waste so much breath, and we would obtain more results.

Delay in answering prayer often proves a great blessing to us. In some cases it tests the strength of our desire, and shows us that we did not care very much about the objects at all, just as a request for an education which is soon dropped shows the parent that the boy was not sufficiently earnest to appreciate the privilege if he had it. In other cases delay leads us to examine our motives, and we find that they are purely or partially selfish, and withdraw the request of our own accord. Possibly the delay opens our eyes to some secret sin, and leads us to abandon it, for "if I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me."

Man is a creature of growth, and it takes time and change and children, and oftentimes losses and bereavements and old age, to soften his heart and show him his need of a Savior.

Consider how many influences wrought upon you before you yielded, how many appeals were made, how many times the still, small voice whispered before you answered "Yes."

Consider all this—you will not wonder that it takes time for God to answer prayer which involves the change of a human will from disobedience to obedience.

Lord, teach us how to pray.

God's Manifestations Made Clear.

As God is present in the universe, the holy spirit is present in the Scripture.

God so manifests himself in the universe, that all who seriously contemplate it find it difficult to be atheists; the Holy Spirit so testifies of Christ in Scripture, that all who seriously study it must struggle hard not to be Christians. The Bible is a wonderful creation of the Holy Spirit.

Flint.

Her eyes are homes of silent prayer.—Tennyson.

If the pretty suit for spring, which is pictured above, had nothing else to recommend it but the charm of simplicity, it would still possess the best of all attributes of the street dress. But it has also the distinction which belongs to novelty in design and is compellingly good to look at.

This is one of a number of new models in which taffeta is combined with a cloth in making up suits. In this particular case it is made up with serge. The skirt is wide and plain, with most of the fullness disposed at the sides. The facing of serge is very wide and is set on to the taffeta with a double row of machine stitching. Skirts made in the same way of cloth are faced up with leather in the same color as the cloth, set on with a small piping of leather, and were among the earliest imports of the season.

The smart coat of taffeta is designed with a yoke of serge and finished at the bottom with a wide banding of it. This is rather an exception to the rule of bandings on street suits, but is admirable because it corresponds with the skirt facing, as it should.

The plain, wide belt of the serge also and the sleeves are finished with cuffs of it.

The sailor collar is made of the taffeta and stands rather high at the back. It is protected by a white organdie collar with scalloped edges, and this is decorated with black hemstitching, another of the new-style features for spring. In the coat, as in the skirt, most of the fullness is gathered in at the sides at the waist line, where it is apparently confined by the belt.

It would not be easy to find a more dependable style in a spring suit than this. It is one of many in which two materials are combined, but it is not always done with such nice balance. The silk and cloth are of the same shade and usually in dark colors. Less practical, but very elegant suits are made in light gray and in tan color.

Dignified and Simple Coiffure

Everybody that is young enough, and some persons who are not, appear to have adopted one of those many styles in hairdressing patterned after the "Bobby" coiffure. The "Castle bob," made popular by the famous dancer, requires a bare forehead with the hair drawn back and a bob at each side.

The Bobby coiffure is youthful looking but sometimes unbecoming. Only the possessor of a beautiful brow looks well with it entirely uncovered. To get over this difficulty the wearing of a narrow band of velvet or other ribbon bound about the forehead has come into vogue. Although not much may be said in favor of this particular style of hairdress so far as becomingness is concerned, we may thank it for compelling a beautiful finish and neatness in other styles.

The hair may be waved or curled, or it may be dressed without either, but whatever else it is, fashion requires that the coiffure shall be beautifully done, and finished looking.

For the more dignified styles in hairdressing, the French twist, rolled softly and close to the head, as shown in the picture given here, is used with many variations in little details of finishing. The hair is trimmed in a light, curving bang, and a short strand is turned forward in a flat ring on the cheek, in one style. In another the hair is waved and parted on one side. It is brought down on the forehead as in the coiffure pictured here, but is coiled in a moderately high coil at the top of the head. This is particularly effective with the tall curls which are to be worn.

She is a wise woman who remains faithful to a style of hairdress that suits her more becoming than any other. The charm that belongs to a well-groomed appearance is within every woman's reach and it is unfeeling in the matter of the coiffure, at least, she can afford to be independent of fashion and to cultivate individuality.

To make a child maintain an erect position while writing at a school desk a German has invented a rod to be attached to a desk, terminating in a cup against the child's chin.

Joined with a jeweled clasp or ornament.

Sometimes a single strand of brilliant pearls or gold beads are used for the purpose. Any ambitious girl can make such a strand for herself. All she need do is take three narrow ribbons of the length required to form the fillet and on these string the beads. Attach the three strands to a flat disk an inch in diameter, formed of buckram covered solidly with beads. Finish the other side in a similar manner.

SAVORY DISHES.

A simple omelet may be made more nourishing by adding to it just before

It is folded two or three tablespoonsful of fried corn.

Escalloped corn may be used for this recipe or any leftover corn dish.

Mexican Chili Con Carne.—Take a piece of suet

the size of a cup, chop fine and fry out; remove the cracklings and while hot add a pound of hamburger steak; fry brown, breaking the meat into bits.

Strain one can of tomatoes into a kettle and pour the meat into it. Add a clove of garlic, or three large onions chopped, add one tablespoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of paprika and a tablespoonful of vinegar. Cook one and a half hours, add a pint of water and a can of kidney beans. Heat ten minutes and serve hot with bread or crackers.

Apple Bismarck.—Core and peel a half dozen apples, steam them until tender. Make a custard of the yolks of three eggs, a pint of milk and sugar to taste. Whip the whites of the eggs, add a little lemon juice and pour over the apples. Then pour the cold yellow custard over all and serve at once. This is a delicious dish if the custard and apples are cold when served. Cream Cheese Soup.—Boil an onion for fifteen minutes in a pint of vegetable stock, strain it and return the stock to the fire. Heat a pint of milk to scalding and thicken with two tablespoonsful of flour rubbed into two tablespoonsful of butter. Season with salt, pepper and celery salt and add the vegetable stock. Stir in slowly the heat on a low fire of two eggs and four tablespoonsful of grated cheese.

Cocoanut and Ginger Pudding.—Crumble a pound of stale sponge cake with a half pound of grated cocoanut. Pour over this a pint of boiling, sweet ened milk; stir in four eggs beaten. Butter a pudding dish and arrange pieces of preserved ginger around the sides. Pour in the pudding and steam top one and a half hours. Serve with ginger syrup for a sauce. The syrup should be warmed before pouring over the pudding.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

During the cold weather heartier, richer dishes may be served, as one is supposed to be out in the exhilarating air and have a better appetite.

Bacon Canapés.—Cut bread in circles of two and a half inches in diameter, slice in bacon fat on both sides until well browned; then drain on brown paper to absorb the excess of fat. Spread with creamed butter, mixed with a very little mustard.

Have ready short slices of very thin bacon, roasted and skewered with a toothpick and fried crisp. Set one on each round of toast. Press into the space around the bacon, chopped pimientos or stuffed olives.

Another most tasty canapé is prepared as above, (as to the bread), then cooked bacon, chopped olives, a dash of mustard with butter is spread on each after being pounded with a pestle; decorate with a slice of hard cooked egg.

Corn Soup.—Scald five cupsful of milk with a stalk of celery and an onion cut in halves. Remove the onion and celery after 20 minutes and add one and a half cupsful of corn pulp. Melt one-fourth of a cupful of butter and when bubbling hot add the same amount of flour, a half teaspoonful of pepper and a teaspoonful of a half of salt; add two cupsful of well-seasoned chicken stock and stir until boiling hot, then add the milk. Serve in soup plates with a few kernels of freshly-popped corn on each.

Chopped ham with bread and seasonings makes a delicious stuffing for onions. Preheat the onions, remove the center, chop them and mix with the ham and seasonings, then pour around the onions, chicken stock or butter and water or cream and bake until thoroughly tender.

GATHERED FACTS

One California company found it

In one important industrial town in New England, among the adult male workers 16 in 100 get less than $308 yearly, 60 in 100 get less than $450, 91 in 100 get less than $750, and only 9 in 100 get more than $750.

Two Washington inventors have patented a round dining table, in which the center revolves to permit a person to help himself to anything on it by

The facts that the germ of the pneumonic plague is a relative to the bubonic germ and that no one knows how it becomes pneumonic, as a specialist has declared, make very little difference to the sufferers from the disease, for it is said to be about 100 per cent fatal. It is the plague which killed 25,000,000 Europeans in the fourteenth century.

CYCLONE SEASON NEAR

$1,000,000 of Cyclone Losses in the State of Michigan in the Year 1913.

This Company paid out $272,000 of losses in the year 1913. It has paid during the past five years $539 losses and a total of $435,358 to people who have had their buildings wrecked in the State of Michigan. The Company has about 40,000 members, and $80,000,000 of assessable capital. The Company has made only six assessments in nineteen years; thirteen out of the nineteen not a single dollar collected by assessment from any member of this Company. No assessment was made in the year 1915, and yet the Company had on hand January 1st, 1916, about $80,000 in cash.

There are about one hundred mutual companies in Michigan covering fire insurance; they save the farmers of Michigan about $1,000,000 over the cost in stock companies each year. The saving in cost of insurance is the greatest benefit to our large membership, with only one overhead expense, mutual insurance against cyclone, in our Company, on account of the low cost and efficient service, has appealed to the farmers and business men of every section of the State.

The many cyclones and tornadoes which have ruined people in nearly every part of the State should be a warning to you. Insure your property whether it be in the city or country, in a safe Company.

The cost of a policy of $2,000 is only $4.50.

See our agent in your locality at once, or write C. J. Robb, Sec. State Mutual Cyclone Insurance Company, Lapeer, Mich.—Advertisement.

Bulletproof Textile Invented

The Rome Corriere del Polesina announces an invention by the curate of Ariano consisting of an imperforable textile fabric. Numerous rifle and revolver shots have been fired at the material from a distance of a few yards without penetrating it. The projectiles are said to have fallen without leaving a trace on the fabric. The curate will offer his invention to the government.

What the Doctor Knows

KIDNEYS MUST BE RIGHT TO INSURE HEALTH

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and activity.

When the kidneys are neglected or allowed in any way, serious results are sure to follow. Therefore, it is particularly necessary to pay more attention to the health of these important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a preparation of pure herbs and is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.

When your kidneys require attention, get Swamp-Root at once from any pharmacist. It is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

GENTLE RUBBING HELPS VARICOSE VEINS

Rubbing the swollen veins nightly for about two minutes with a gentle upward stroke brings benefit to sufferers and is a mighty good advice, says an authority.

After the rubbing, which should always be toward the heart, because the blood in the veins flows that way, apply Eucalypti Oil (full strength) with brush or hand.

Try this simple home treatment for a few days and improvement will be noticed, then continue until veins are reduced to normal. It is very convenient and penetrating and can be obtained at any modern drug store. It is so powerful that it also reduces colds and wens.

A man never devotes much time to wheeling his second baby around the block.

WHEN KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE GLASS OF SALTS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Hurt or You Have Backache or Bladder Misery —Meat Forms Uric Acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

GRAYLING, THURSDAY, FEB. 17

Homesick For Grayling.

George W. Tyler of 435 East 39th street, Los Angeles, Calif., in a letter written to Will Havens, of this city expresses a fondness for his old boyhood home—Grayling. In his reminiscent mood he penned the following verses, which we believe will be read with interest by our readers.

THE GRAYLING BOY'S LAMENT.

I am going back to the Sable,
Where the smell of the pine in the air,
And the clean wind drives away sickness,
And God's hand is felt everywhere.
The deer hides in the thicket,
And the wild-cat is guarding her lair,
And the lonely old hoot-owl at midnight,
Sends his mournful Who! Who!
thru the air.
When once you have lived by the Sable,
Its grip you can never forget,
Its always a-calling and calling,
And says 'you'll come back to me yet.
Where the falcon is wheeling in circles,
And the old rabbits dodging around,
Where in summer the partridge is drumming,
In winter there is snow on the ground.
But I'm going back to the Sable,
It's nearer to God all in all,
I knew it would come sooner or later,
I am only obeying the call.

Respectfully submitted,
W. Jorgenson,
C. A. Canfield,
A. Taylor,
Committee.

Moved by Jorgenson and supported by McCullough that the report be accepted and orders drawn on the treasurer for the amounts. Motion carried. The following resolution was offered by the Trustee Taylor:

Be it resolved that the following ordinance be and the same is hereby enacted to wit:

AN ORDINANCE BEING ORDINANCE NO.

ORDINANCE NO. 20.

An Ordinance Relative To Saloons and Saloon-keepers.

THE VILLAGE OF GRAYLING, MICHIGAN.
Sec. 1. No person shall keep a saloon for the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors within the limits of the village of Grayling without having first obtained from the common council a license therefor in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Every person desiring to keep a saloon within the said village after the first day of May, 1916, shall before entering upon such business after the day last aforesaid, make application in writing therefor to the common council, specifying the location of the building in which he intends to keep the same, and to cause a firm, such application shall set forth the names of all the parties constituting such firm, which application shall also designate the persons proposed as sureties on the bond as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 3. After the granting of such application and before issuing the license, the applicant shall pay into the village treasury, for such license the sum of five hundred dollars and shall file the village treasurer's receipt therefor with the village clerk. Such application shall also provide for a license to be issued to him, execute a bond to the village of Grayling in the sum of one thousand dollars, with two sufficient sureties to be approved by the common council, conditioned that he will keep and maintain an orderly and well-regulated saloon during the continuance of such license, and shall pay all fines and costs imposed upon him for the violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance.

Sec. 4. Whenever said common council shall have determined to grant a license to such applicant, and upon the presentation to the clerk of said village of the bond hereinafter provided for, and the receipt of the treasurer of said village for the license fee, the said clerk shall issue to said person a license which shall be in full force and effect from the first day of May of each year, and before the said clerk shall issue any such license he shall record the same in a book to be provided for such purpose.

Sec. 5. Any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions or requirements of this ordinance, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than ninety days.

This ordinance shall take effect the 15th day of March, 1916.

Passed, ordained and ordered published this 7th day of February, 1916.
H. PETERSEN,
Village President.

T. P. PETERSON,
Village Clerk.

Trustee Cook moved that the resolution be accepted and adopted and the ordinance enacted. Trustee Herrick supported the motion. A roll call was then had upon the question which resulted as follows, to wit: Trustees Herrick, Canfield, Cook, McCullough, Taylor and Jorgenson voted yeas. Nays none.

A majority of the members of the council having voted in favor thereof the ordinance was declared duly enacted, and the clerk was directed to have the same printed in the Crawford Avalanche as the law directs.

Moved by McCullough and supported by Cook that the bill of A. M. Lewis be accepted and paid and presented to the Board of Supervisors for reimbursement. Motion carried.

Moved by McCullough and supported by Herrick that we adjourn. Motion carried.

T. P. Peterson,
Village Clerk.

No Poor in This Town. Hoquiam, Wash.—This city bears the distinction, according to the official head of the Salvation Army, of being the only city in the Northwest that has no poverty and no needy people. He bases his opinion on the fact that he has no calls for old clothing or other assistance.

MRS. ALBERT T. CHURCH

Mrs. Albert T. Church, wife of Lieutenant Church, U. S. N., holds an important place among the women who are entertaining this season in the army and navy set of Washington.

A man's Answer to a Woman's Question.

I stand at the bar of your pure woman's soul,
Condemned in the cause that you plead;
My only defence is the simple request
That you'll judge me by motive, not deed.

For remember, that man's but a child in the dark,
Though formed by the Hand from above.

He will fall many times, but shall wait forth at last
In the sunshine of infinite Love.

So I'm boldened to answer your question so fair,
And give you a man's reply:

That for the price of a true woman's love,
I am ready to live or die.

You say that the man who gains your love
Must be brave and true and good.

I answer that she who wins my heart
Must be type of true womanhood.

You say that you look for a "man and a king,"

A very prince of the race;
I look for a kind and generous heart,
And not for a queenly face.

You require "all things that are good and true,"

All things that a man should be;
I ask for a woman with all that implies.

And that is sufficient for me.

You ask for a man without a fault,
To live with here on earth;

I ask for a woman, faults and all,
For by faults I may judge of worth.

I ask for a woman made as of old,
A higher form of man:

His comforter, helper, adviser and friend,
As in the original plan.

A woman who has an aim in life,
Who finds life worth the living;

Who makes the world better for being here,
And for others her life is giving.

I will not require all that I have asked
In these lines so poor and few,
Only pray that you may be all
That God can make of you.

For your heart and life and wonderful love,
Are sacred things to me;

And "I'll stake my life" that I'll be to you Whatever I ought to be.—Ex.

Pleasant normal. The programs for the other sessions will be conducted on the lines announced in the Avalanche last week. Altogether there is a good attendance of teachers and also students. The schools of the county are practically all represented.

We wish to call special attention to the Village caucus that will be held at the Town hall tonight at 8:00 o'clock standard time. An official notice of the same appears elsewhere in this issue of the Avalanche. Voters, please try and be present. The terms of office that will expire are those of Hans Petersen, president; Thorwald P. Petersen, clerk; Holger Hanson, treasurer; James W. Sorenson, assessor; Dr. Charles A. Canfield, L. Herriek and Walmer Jorgenson, trustees. Among those whose offices expire it is regretted generally that T. Peterson, clerk, declares that under no condition will he be a candidate for re-election. He has made as good and proficient a clerk as Grayling has ever had, is the opinion of some of those who are in a position to know.

February 22, 1916

The Juniors are making big plans for their annual dancing party which will be held in the School gymnasium tomorrow (Friday) night. These "J Hops" of our schools have always been favorite occasions and it is with great pleasure that a majority of our people have mingled together with our school friends. That this will be one of the finest parties any of our Junior classes have given, seems certain. The music for the occasion will be furnished by an eight-piece orchestra, under direction of Bandmaster Ed. Clark.

The Bay City Democrat, in its issue of last week, gave a fine account of the annual meeting of the Bay City Board of Commerce. Principal among the many features of the meeting was an address by Paul Leidy of the Jackson Board of Commerce. In Jackson they pay a membership fee of $100.00 and annual dues of $15.00. This fund with a guarantee fund subscribed by some of the larger industrial concerns gives them enough capital to be able to "go after things." Mr. Leidy says "it pays" to support a live Commercial board for they are "growing to beat the bank." We have a Board of Trade in Grayling and what we have in membership and funds, compared with these larger cities, we make up in enthusiasm. Almost every business firm in Grayling is represented.

DuPont News Items.

J. M. Torrey went to Bay City last Saturday for a few days.

Mr. Lunt of the Badger Co., of Boston, Mass., is again in the city looking after the company's interests here.

He will probably be here for the balance of the week.

Benjamin Shore, superintendent of the DuPont plant at Bay City is a visitor at the Grayling plant for a few days this week. This is Ben's first visit here.

Mrs. Eugene Ayette of DuPont Ave., returned Monday from Bay City, where she has been for a week visiting relatives and friends.

Mercy Hospital Notes.

Joe McCoy, who has been a patient for several weeks, will soon be able to leave the hospital.

Alex Leppick of R. Hanson & Sons at Baytown, who entered the hospital last week is doing nicely.

Wm. Chas. Poe of LeGrand was admitted last Sunday, very ill with fever. She is doing nicely at present.

Mrs. Anna Holchi of Waters, who was brought to the hospital last Saturday very ill, is doing nicely.

Little Louis Jennings of the South Side, who is at the hospital with a broken leg is doing well.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kelley was dismissed last Thursday and returned to her home in Frederic feeling very much improved.

Joe Kovaski of Waters, who was operated upon for an injury, he received while at work for the Stephens Lumber Co., several weeks ago is still at the hospital and improving.

Mrs. Nikolai Scholz is doing very well.

Mrs. Ella Smith of O'Leary was admitted to the hospital Tuesday for treatment.

Mrs. Agnes Kenney, wife of Rev. Kenney of Atlanta is at the hospital for treatment, entering the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Benj. Sherman of Frederic, who underwent an operation for appendicitis is doing very nicely.

Bernard Callahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Callahan of Frederic was a patient at the hospital for a few days, returning home Monday.

Miss Agnes Fischer of Grayling, was at the hospital for medical treatment a few days of last week.

Mrs. D. Palmer is doing fairly well at the hospital.

A Valentine Pedro Party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holiday very pleasantly entertained ten couples at their home, Monday evening, Feb. 14th. The home was tastefully decorated with hearts and cupid. First prizes were awarded Mrs. Mae Ketzbeck and N. O. Corvin. Consolation prizes, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Collins. After refreshments the guests were entertained with piano solos by Miss Mable Ketzbeck and Mrs. Holiday. Invitations were issued only to members of the L. N. L. and N. L. V. S.

Supper and Entertainment.

The Ladies' Home Missionary society of the M. E. church will give a supper and patriotic entertainment at the church on Monday evening, Feb. 21st. Everybody is invited and strangers especially will be made welcome.

School Notes

Miss Boss of the mathematics department in high school was absent a few days last week owing to the death of a relative. Mrs. T. P. Peterson filled her place.

The Sophomore English class has begun the study of George Eliot's "Silas Marner."

The Freshmen English class has begun studying the "Lady of the Lake" by Scott.

This semester, a class in public speaking was organized in connection with the work in English. At present twenty-one members are enrolled.

This week the teachers purchased the furniture for the rest room. Out of the proceeds cleared from their sale at the public opening of the building, and donations made them, the following articles were obtained: a rug, couch, two chairs, library table, mirrors and curtains.

Under the new six and six high school plan instituted this semester, 139 pupils are enrolled.

Annual Junior party tomorrow night. No basket ball games this week.

Beginners in the first grade must enter school no later than next Monday.

There is no school today and tomorrow because of the county teachers' institute, which all of our teachers are attending.

We are receiving too many telephone calls for boys and girls of the high school. The people of the town are requested not to ask to have a pupil called to the phone only in cases of absolute necessity. These numerous unnecessary calls are becoming quite a nuisance.

Parents are cordially invited to attend the different sessions of the teachers' institute. These sessions will all be held in the high school assembly room. All are especially urged to attend the public lecture to be given by Prof. Lott this evening at 7:30.

Parents will do well not to come to interview teachers when in a state of anger. Wait until you are in a normal state of mind, then if you will come we can sit down and talk things over and probably both be enlightened. We can assure you, however, that if you come while frothing at the mouth you will get little or no satisfaction.

Village Caucus.

The qualified voters of the village of Grayling will meet in caucus at the Town hall, Thursday night, February 17th, at 8:00 o'clock, standard time, for the purpose of nominating village officers and for the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before the meeting. Following is the list of officers to be nominated: One president, one clerk, one treasurer, one assessor, and three trustees for full term. Village election will be held Monday, March 13th. Dated Feb. 7 1916.—By order of Village Committee.

BUSINESS IS BASED ON CONFIDENCE

A Theory Put Into Practice by Well-Known Business Man

J. C. BRADY

A druggist has many opportunities to make lasting friends of his customers," said Mr. J. C. Brady, popular Rexall Pharmacist of Fall River, Mass. "The very nature of his business draws their confidence for little helpful suggestions on the matter of health. Many people have thanked me for recommending Rexall's Oriental Balm for constipation and its resultant ill. Put up in dainty candy tablet form, they are pleasant to the taste and make an ideal laxative for the home—for men, women and children alike."

We have the exclusive selling rights for this great laxative.

PROBATE NOTICE.

STATE OF MICHIGAN.
The Probate Court for the County of Crawford.

At a session of said court, held at the probate office in the village of Grayling, in said county, on the 14th day of February A. D. 1916.

Present: Hon. Wellington Batterson, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Phoebe Milks, deceased.

Frank H. Milks, a son of said deceased, is now in said court his petition, praying that an instrument filed in said court be admitted to probate as the last will and testament of said deceased and that administration of said estate be granted to John Fitzpatrick or some other suitable person.

It is ordered, that the 14th day of March, A. D. 1916, at ten o'clock a. m., at said probate office, is hereby appointed for the hearing of said petition. It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy hereof for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the CRAWFORD AVALANCHE, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

UNCLE SAM IS EYE DOCTOR TO MOUNTAINEERS

Public Health Service Doing Great Work Among Purest Blooded Americans.

TRACHOMA IN THE MOUNTAINS

Curing of Sore Eyes on an Enormous Scale Is Humanitarian Task Being Performed in Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia.

Washington.—In a way—a very different way—the United States public health service is doing the very thing which Mark Twain's irresistible "Colonel Sellers" proposed to do with his "matchless, incomparable and altogether marvelous eye-water."

The colonel's plea for his eye-water, very much paraphrased, ran something like this:

"One million people in the United States have sore eyes, one million, sir! And now come I, with nature's most potent balsam—dew of earliest morn, plus distillations of the rarest herbs of field and forest—which, upon dropping one drop in the eye, soothes and cools, and which, upon repetition until the entire bottle is used, forever banishes pains and aches of every description. We will sell 10,000 bottles the first year at $2 a bottle—10,000 people cured of sore eyes, $20,000! We will sell 20,000 bottles the second year—20,000 pairs of eyes made whole, 20,000 grateful hearts, $40,000! The third year we will sell, etc."

The public health service is not pushing its own or anybody's eye-water, and is not advancing its own or anybody's money-making scheme. But its most picturesque work has to do with the curing of sore eyes on an enormous scale. If direct parallel lines with the visionary scheme of Colonel Sellers, it is in the number of grateful hearts which thank this federal agency for restored vision.

This humanitarian work is being done among the purest-blooded white Americans in America—the mountaineers of Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia. Down in these mountains, in small, isolated towns, far from railroads, are five little government hospitals which treat victims of sore eyes on a scale as large as that of many of the numerous city hospitals devoted to this specialty.

Trachoma in the Mountains.

The chief cause of "sore eyes" in the mountains is trachoma. Possibly Mark Twain knew the prevalence of this affliction in the mountain sections of the South and Middle West and hence knew of the acute need for some such wonderful concoction as Colonel Sellers' eye-water. Very likely, the great humorist drew his inspiration from this source.

Strange to say, however, the widespread existence of trachoma within the borders of the United States waited many years for official "discovery." For a long time, the experts talked of trachoma as an exotic disease. On the theory that it came from abroad and the chief danger to the American public lay in the admission of infected immigrants, trachoma was made one of the quarantinable diseases.

Every applicant for entry into the United States is carefully examined for traces of trachoma and thousands of otherwise good citizen-material have been turned back to their native lands from our ports because they had trachoma.

The "discovery" came a little more than three years ago, when Dr. J. A. Stuckey of Lexington, Ky., called the attention of federal authorities to the numerous cases of trachoma in the Kentucky mountains. Surgeon John McMullen, who had experience with trachoma patients at the New York and Philadelphia immigration stations, conducted an investigation. Of 4,000 mountaineers examined, it was found that 600 had trachoma. In consequence the hospitals were established; three in Kentucky, one in Virginia and one in West Virginia; at Jackson, London and Hindman, Ky., and at Coeburn, Va., and Welch, W. Va. These hospitals had more than 7,000 cases and performed 193 eye operations last October.

Effect in the Mountains.
Trachoma is a disease of the eyes. Characterized by sandy lids, it is often called. It leads to serious inflammation and blindness. It is both communicable and curable.

Among the mountaineers the work of curing the actual cases is proceeding rapidly, but more important is the task of teaching the mountain population to avoid infection by adopting more sanitary living arrangements.

Their cabin-houses are overcrowded; they use common wash-basins and common towels; the mother is apt to wipe the eyes of the child with an apron upon which she wipes her own.

These people have lived much as they do now for 150 years, and except for communicable diseases, such as trachoma, they are a healthy class. To effect change among them, in view of their isolation and decidedly settled opinions, has been a large undertaking.

The public health service is working a change among them, however. Frequent meetings are held in school-houses and churches, at which stereopticon slides are exhibited showing the precise means by which trachoma and other diseases, including typhoid, spread. This campaign of education has made rapid headway and, as a result, the faith of the mountain public in Uncle Sam's teaching is increased.

Only a few years ago the sort of visitor from the United States government who was familiar in the Kentucky mountains carried a Winchester.

He was looking for "secret" whiskey stills and was venturing upon a dangerous errand among a very hostile people. The good Samaritan from the public health office, upon his errand of peace and charity, has now become as thoroughly an established character in this rugged region as the internal revenue agent used to be. Probably no other influence has served more effectively to bring the outside world into close and friendly relations with the mountaineers.

Sixty Miles for Treatment.
"That these people realize and appreciate what we are trying to do for them," said the medical officer in charge of the trachoma work at the headquarters of the public health service in Washington recently, "was impressed upon me by an incident which occurred when I was at the Hindman hospital not long since."

"An old man brought in his son who was badly afflicted with trachoma. It was decided that an operation was necessary, but the boy overheard us tell his father this. The lad slipped out and ran away home. It was 20 miles across the mountains. The father and son had walked this 20 miles to the hospital."

"The father at once walked back, found his son and repeated the long foot-journey into Hindman the next day, where the operation was performed and the boy cured. That meant a 60-mile trip on foot—hard, rough going all the way—by the parent to force his son to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the government."

"When we see these things we know our work is well worth doing."

The appeal of such incidents to the hearts of a simple, natural and kindly people is manifest. There was the case of a mother of four children, none of whom she had ever seen. The vision of both eyes was so far impaired by trachoma that in bright sunlight she could not recognize anyone. Following brief treatment at one of the mountain hospitals she returned to her family and saw her children for the first time.

There was an old man who was led 40 miles across the mountains for treatment. Though blind for years, his vision was restored and he returned home without escort.

As stated, there is no miracle-cure about it; no use of marvelous eye-water, no mystery whatever. Eliminating medical terms, it is largely a business of rolling back and snatching the inside of the eyelids after that comes thorough cleansing, continuing regularly by the patient. Of course, if the corneal returns to the eyeball and uses infected towels, the disease returns.

The work of the government surgeons in the mountains is not limited to trachoma. Not long ago one unusually busy day, an assistant surgeon general of the public health service received an unexpected visitor. It was a teacher from Hindman, Ky., where the eye hospital has since been established. She had ridden 23 miles to the railroad station and thence had made the long trip to Washington upon most urgent business. The assistant surgeon general had made her acquaintance in course of the trachoma field investigations.

Finding Typhoid Source.

"Doctor, she said, 'there are 60 cases of typhoid in Hindman and I mean of curing for them. We don't know the cause of the epidemic and I came here to see if you cannot help us.'"

"How long will you be here?" she was asked.

"I am starting back this afternoon. We'll send one of our men with you."

So, the second day following, a federal health officer accompanied the schoolteacher on the ride into Hindman. In a sense, the surgeon went armed, but not with rifle and ammunition. A packhorse bore his arms—a very ordinary looking box containing a field laboratory especially designed for emergency war against typhoid.

He had serums for those already ill and assisted the local doctors materially in treating those already sick. What was more important, he had the means of locating the cause of the epidemic. This, after patient investigation, he finally discovered.

A typical mountain stream, cold and clear as crystal, runs through the center of the town. Some three miles up this stream the federal surgeon found the home of a "chronic typhoid case." In Hindman the stream flowed near a well used by the pupils of the school. The water from the stream, bearing typhoid germs, had seeped through crevices in a limestone formation into the well.

ORDINANCE NO. 20.

An Ordinance Relative To Saloons and Saloon-keepers.

THE VILLAGE OF GRAYLING ORDAINS:
Sec. 1. No person shall keep a saloon for the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors within the limits of the village of Grayling, without having first obtained from the common council a license therefor, in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Every person desiring to keep such saloon within the said village after the first day of May, 1916, shall, before entering upon such business after the last aforesaid, make application in writing therefor to the village treasurer, specifying the location of the building in which he intends to keep the same, and in case of a firm, such application shall set forth the names of all the parties constituting such firm, which application shall also designate the persons proposed as sureties on the bond as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 3. After the granting of such application by the common council, and before issuing the license, the applicant shall pay into the village treasury for such license the sum of five hundred dollars and shall file the said sum with the village clerk. Such applicant shall also, before such license is issued to him, execute a bond to the village of Grayling in the sum of one thousand dollars, with two sufficient sureties to be approved by the common council, to keep and maintain an orderly and well-regulated saloon during the continuance of such license, and shall pay all fines and costs imposed upon him for the violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance.

Sec. 4. Whenever said common council shall be determined to grant a license to such applicant, and upon the presentation to the clerk of said village of the bond herebefore provided for, and the receipt of the treasurer of said village for the license fee, the said clerk shall issue to said person a license which shall be a permit to keep and maintain a saloon during the first day of May of each year, and before the said clerk shall issue any such license he shall record the same in a book to be provided for such purpose.

Sec. 5. Any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions or requirements of this ordinance, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than ninety days.

This ordinance shall take effect the 15th day of March, 1916.

Passed, ordained and ordered published this 7th day of February, 1916.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is, by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Deafness is the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. We will give ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Severe Cold Quickly Cured.
"On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of the grip as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. "I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold." Obtainable everywhere.
